Monthly Commentary

The Hamilton Lane Global Private Assets Fund Canadian unhedged and hedged share classes returned -0.64% and -0.40% for the month of March, bringing annualized since-inception returns to +13.96% and +10.66%, respectively. The depreciation of the US Dollar had a negative impact on the CAD-denominated share classes this month, with both CAD-denominated share classes underperforming the I-USD share class at the Master Fund level, which returned -0.16%. The public markets were down in March, with the MSCI World Index returning -4.45% in USD terms.

For the month of March, GPA's performance was broadly flat, relative to public markets, with MSCI World down over 4% for the month. The valuations for direct equity portion of the portfolio were negatively impacted given the drop in public markets driven by the escalating trade tensions. However, these were largely offset by the secondary portion of the portfolio, as well as the direct credit sleeve, which continues to benefit from elevated base rates.

One of the positive contributors to this month's performance was the Fund's investment in Cohesity, a North American technology company focused on cloud-based data management and protection. This single-asset growth secondary deal was made alongside Founder's Circle, a US based venture capital firm specializing in technology and software companies. Cohesity acquired a competitor data protection business, Veritas, in December 2024 and is now the largest player in the data protection market as a result. Our investment in Cohesity closed at a discount, which positively contributed to the monthly return of the fund.

Deployment in the GPA portfolio remained strong in the month of March, closing into two new secondary investments and one credit investment. One of the new investments was Project Hunt, a complex secondary transaction into Vgames Fund I. Hamilton Lane was able to gain access to the deal with structured distribution rights as a result of our relationship with Vgames, an Israel-based venture capital manager focused on the gaming sector. Vgames Fund I is diversified across the gaming sector including successful studios, upcoming game developers, and platforms that support content creators and offer potential for generating recurring revenues. Project Hunt provides the portfolio with targeted venture exposure and beneficial deal terms alongside an expert General partner in the space.

GPA's cash balance stands at roughly 7% as of the end of March as both net subscriptions and deployment have remained strong. The cash is fully penciled to deals set to close within the next three months.

Any offering or potential transaction will be made pursuant to separate documentation negotiated between us, which will supersede entirely the information contained herein.

Certain of the performance results included herein do not reflect the deduction of any applicable advisory or management fees, since it is not possible to allocate such fees accurately in a vintage year presentation or in a composite measured at different points in time. A client's rate of return will be reduced by any applicable advisory or management fees, carried interest and any expenses incurred. Hamilton Lane's fees are described in Part 2 of our Form ADV, a copy of which is available upon request.

The following hypothetical example illustrates the effect of fees on earned returns for both separate accounts and fund-of-funds investment vehicles. The example is solely for illustration purposes and is not intended as a guarantee or prediction of the actual returns that would be earned by similar investment vehicles having comparable features. The example is as follows: The hypothetical separate account or fund-of-funds consisted of $100 million in commitments with a fee structure of 1.0% on committed capital during the first four years of the term of the investment and then declining by 10% per year thereafter for the 12-year life of the account. The commitments were made during the first three years in relatively equal increments and the assumption of returns was based on cash flow assumptions derived from a historical database of actual private equity cash flows. Hamilton Lane modeled the impact of fees on four different return streams over a 12-year time period. In these examples, the effect of the fees reduced returns by approximately 2%. This does not include performance fees, since the performance of the account would determine the effect such fees would have on returns. Expenses also vary based on the particular investment vehicle and, therefore, were not included in this hypothetical example. Both performance fees and expenses would further decrease the return.
