Investment manager overview

GUARDIAN CAPITAL LP

Guardian was formed in 1962 and is one of Canada's longest-established, independent investment counselling firms. Over its 50-year history, Guardian has offered its investment management expertise in balanced fund management, equity management and fixed-income management to pension fund clients, institutions, operating and endowment funds, charitable organizations, mutual funds and high net worth individuals. Guardian Capital Inc. is wholly-owned by Guardian Capital Group Limited. The parent company's common and non-voting Class A shares are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange

Investment philosophy

Guardian's investment philosophy is to achieve a prudent balance between risk tolerance and return enhancement. This balance is key to successful longer-term performance. Guardian also believes that longer term success will be achieved through fundamental research, superior security selection and implementation of a disciplined approach. They utilize both a "bottom-up" and "top-down" approach for portfolio construction with primary emphasis on a "bottom-up" process.

Investment process and risk controls

Guardian employs a proprietary and disciplined screening process that analyzes and monitors thousands of global companies. They refer to this as the GPS methodology. This methodology is designed to identify companies worthy of further review and flags those that should be sold. In a converging global market, Guardian believes a key point of differentiation is their bottom-up approach to selecting the best dividend payers within each sector, regardless of geography. GPS stands for:

- Growth - Dividend growth is the single biggest factor that drives investor returns in the long term.
- Payout - Investors reward the quality of payout, not just quantity.
- Sustainability - Companies must have a competitive advantage to sustain dividend growth.

Guardian's portfolio construction process utilizes a team refined approach. They do not use an optimizer to determine portfolio weights. From the Buy list portfolio managers work as a team in evaluating and discussing the merits of including a stock and its target weight in a portfolio. Position weights begin at 1% and are capped at 5%.

Their methodology looks to expose the portfolio to "pockets of strength" within global sectors while maintaining a sector-neutral positioning across the broader portfolio. Consequently, portfolio holdings within individual sectors tend to be concentrated within specific industry groups, while the broader portfolio remains well diversified across at least 7 of the 10 GICs sectors. Portfolio characteristics such as style, regional allocation and currency tilts are residuals of the stocks selection process

² Style represents the aggregate characteristics of the underlying holdings within this model. Market capitalization measures the aggregate market value of the outstanding shares of a company. Large-cap stocks are defined as the group that accounts for the top 70% of the capitalization of each geographic area; mid-cap stocks represent the next 20%; and small-cap stocks represent the balance.

³ Duration measures the sensitivity of the fixed income investments to interest rate changes measured in years. In general, the longer the duration, the more sensitive the investment will be to interest rates changes. Credit quality measures the underlying issuer's ability to repay their debt.

The return data is as at December 31, 2025. Indicated rates of return are historical annual compounded total returns including reinvestment of all distributions for the period ended, and do not take into account management expenses, account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges or income taxes payable by any security holder that would have reduced returns.
